PREFACE

It seems certain that a compiled genealogy of the Descendants of Governor William Bradford has long been overdue. This compilation has been my self-appointed task for over five years.

This genealogy is to be published in two volumes. Volume I is a chronological arrangement of the families of the first six generations with the children of each family; Volume II will begin with the seventh generation and end with the present time and will have a part devoted to correction of errors in Volume I and new material for the first six generations.

Wishing to publish Volume I when completed, I have concentrated on the first seven generations. Actually, one ought not to use the word "completed" because such a task is never complete.

This book is primarily a genealogy. There are brief, sketchy biographies and some pictures. These were necessarily curtailed in number so that the book would not become too cumbersome.

May someone write a book of biographies of the many colorful lives and vivid personalities to be found among the first six generations! These would portray a strongly cemented path through our early history. These would show how our valiant ancestors met the challenge of their times, "how they conquered poverty and war, hunger and disease, privation and despair, how they laid such a strong foundation for our country it remains even today the country that still has freedom of religion, freedom of speech and free enterprise."

May the biographies in this volume—brief as they are—inspire some descendant with the outlines of such a book.

Records in this volume have been checked and rechecked by all references obtainable from town, church and probate records, wills, deeds, epitaphs and family bibles and manuscript records.

In this genealogy as in all genealogies there will be errors—not, I trust, very many.

In compiling a book of this size one is indebted to very many—descendants, interested people and libraries—for valuable contributions. Time does not permit to name such a lengthy list, but I wish to name a very few:

Mrs. Harry Clark Boden, Mr. William Bradford Browne, Mrs. Horace Walters; libraries: the Connecticut State Library, the D.A.R. National Library, the New England and Genealogical Society Libraries, the New York Genealogical and Biographical Libraries, and the New York Public Library; and my husband, Professor Francis Chauncey Hall.

May this book pay proper tribute to our distinguished ancestor, whose greatness time cannot dim!

GROUP PICTURE OF THIRD BRADFORD FAMILY COMPACT MEETING

It seems fitting that we, the descendants of Governor William Bradford should band together in a family society, "The Bradford Family Compact" and start work upon various projects in honor of our great ancestor.

Governor William Bradford lived after his father's death with his grandfather, but on the death of his grandfather in 1596 went to live with his father's brother, Robert Bradford, who lived in Scrooby five miles from Austerfield, near the Brewsters, in Yorkshire, England. He joined the church where the Rev. Richard Clifton and the Rev. John Robinson preached, and soon became one of the leading Separatists.

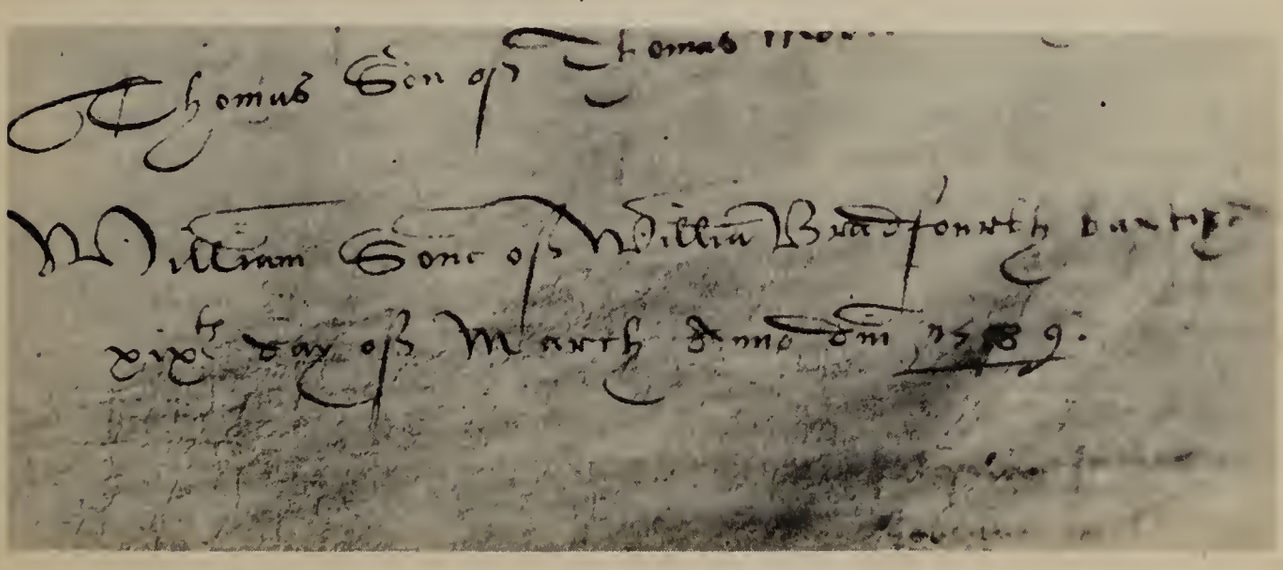
He was of a studious and thoughtful nature, but his early educational advantages were limited. By diligent study he became very proficient in Dutch, French, Latin, Greek and Hebrew. He mastered Hebrew so that he might read the Old Testament in its original tongue.

A most influential power among the Separatists, he migrated to Holland with them. When he came of age he received considerable property from his father's estate, but did not follow his father's commercial undertakings. In Holland he learned the art of "fustian or frieze weaving."



Birthplace of Gov. Wm. Bradford, Austerfield

Throughout his life all his talents were used. Being a haven for many orphans, his home may well be called the first orphans' home in America. His skill in medicine relieved the sufferings of many of the pilgrims and members of their families.

He and the brave band of pilgrims wrote and signed The Compact in the cabin of the Mayflower. This Compact is the first charter of a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. Here was the birth of constitutional liberty, the pattern for our American Constitution and each state Constitution. In this colony of Plymouth were planted the foundations of our American way of life—the ideals of civic and religious liberty that still survive and predominate in this troubled world of ours, though we seem to be beset on all sides with many radical and subversive movements.

Our ancestor ever proved himself worthy of each trust, though some of his duties were heavy and burdensome. His sound and shrewd judgment made him a power in legislative and judicial affairs. His wisdom in dealing with the Indians led to peace between the colony and the neighboring tribes for many years.

He was for the colonists their leader, piloting them through their first winter with its privations, hunger, sickness and suffering. Half their number perished in the struggles of that first terrible winter. On the sarcophagus which contains their remains is this inscription:—

"This monument marks the first burying ground in Plymouth of the Passengers of the Mayflower. Here, under cover of darkness, the first dwindling Company laid their dead, levelling the earth above them lest the Indians should learn how many were the graves."

It is doubtful whether this young small and struggling colony would have survived without the able guidance and faith of its leader.

The Bradfords were yeomen and therefore were not entitled to a coat-of-arms. In the reign of Elizabeth the yeomen were the class next to the gentry. Wishing to have an ensignia we have chosen the coat-of-arms used by Bradfords not too far distant from Austerfield. Much research has been done by interested people at various times to connect these two branches, but so far to no avail.

We descendants have banded together to work for the fulfillment of our objectives and new ones that will present themselves:—

I. To defend the Honor, Integrity and Supremacy of our Government and our Constitution.

II. To foster fraternal relations between all Descendants.

III. To establish a record of the accomplishments of all the Descendants of Governor William Bradford.

"Happy he, who with bright regard, looks back upon his father's father, who with joy recounts the deeds of grace, and in himself values the latest link in the fair chain of noble sequences."

—Goethe.

THE NAME

The name Bradford is derived from the Saxon "Bradenford" or "Broadford" and is doubtless very ancient. A Bradford situated near the Avon, co Wilts owes its name to the broad ford of the river.

One of the first martyrs who perished at the stake in "Bloody" Mary's time was John Bradford, prefect of St. Paul's and a celebrated preacher. It is written that he perished nobly, praying and exhorting the people while he was at the stake. His last words were "Strait is the gaite and narrow is the way."

The early energetic and persevering opposition to intolerance exhibited by Governor William Bradford would seem to mark him as a worthy descendant of the martyr's immediate family. Both Governor William and his illustrious forbear were natives of near-by towns in northern England: Austerfield and Manchester, and it seems quite possible that the families were related.

One circumstance may be advanced in substantiation of this relationship is that a writer who was a contemporary of our ancestor wrote the following commemorative lines at the time of the Governor's death:

"Now blessed, holy Bradford, a successor
Of blessed, holy Bradford, the Confessor
Is gone to place of rest."

ENGLISH ANCESTRY

Our first Bradford that history tells us about was William Bradford, yeoman, Res Austerfield in 1575.
Nothing known of his wife.
William died Jan. 10, 1595.
Children 4: William[a], Thomas[a], Robert[a], Elizabeth[a].

His son: William[a] married Alice Hanson, the daughter of John and Margaret (Grashen) Hanson. Their parents were the only yeomen of Austerfield who owned property. William died July 15, 1791. It is believed Alice remarried Robert Briggs, Sept. 23, 1593. There is no record of her death.

Res Friendship, Me. Farmer. Both scalped by the Indians. Two sons (possibly Benjamin and Joshua) taken into captivity. Other children at the fort. Joshua grinding corn did not hear the warning shot. Did not fear local Indians because he had saved the life of the chief when he was drowning - having fallen through the ice. Meletiah hid under bed with Elisha. When Elisha cried, whe crept out and dashed toward the fort. Indians leaving, saw her and started in pursuit. One gave her an ugly wound - supposed to have severed two lower ribs from spine. A soldier from the fort rescued her. Some claim 10 children, some 11. If 11 children, Joshua, his wife and son Winslow d in 1758 k by the Indians; if 10 children d in 1756. Rev Samuel Wood b June 4, 1724, Boxford, Mass. d 1777. Dr David (Daniel) W m Mary Spofford.

Harvard 1745. In 1748 bought land at Union. Active in church and town affairs there; one of committee to select a minister. Moved 1761 to Cheboque or Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. Served as "Clarke" of township. In 1767 moved to Barrington, Nova Scotia. Received a grant of land at Woods Harbor - 1100 acres. Took up pastorate of Congregational Church there, supplementing meager income with farming and fishing. Seeing coming war, in 1772 returned to New Eng leaving son David. In Apr 1775, at the session of Conn Leg appointed Chaplain of Fifth Conn Reg. Taken prisoner at capture of Fort Washington, N Y, Nov 16, 1776. Incarcerated in prison-ship "Asia." Here he died - doubtless a victim with many others of unspeakably vile sanitary conditions.

Benjamin White b . d . Benjamin[4] (Daniel[3], Peregrine[2], Wm[1] - Pilgrim) W m Faith Oakman.

Res Marshfield (White's Ferry). Removed from White's Ferry to homestead of his father-in-law. Not robust but active and useful during Rev period. Represented town in Provincial Congress, 1774. One of Committee of Correspondence; acting clerk, 1774. Protected the town's supply of powder by storing it in his barn and under bed of his "free room." Carried tea to a large flat rock on a hill and burned it assisted by his brother-in-law, Jeremiah Low. At a town meeting June 19, 1776, it was voted to send certain instructions to Nehemiah Thomas, their Representative in General Court. These instructions Benjamin, acting as Town Clerk, put into form which were accepted and sent. This has been called "First Declaration of Independence." MI Num 34,505; Benjamin - 37,627/8.

Sgt, enlisted Apr 9, 1761. Discharged Dec 5. He with other inhabitants of Shatford signed a petition sent to Gen Ass showing that they had in 1772 petitioned to be formed into a separate military company with powers and privileges of their own, that owing to the outbreak of the war and the call to arms of their officers, one officer deserted to the enemy, they were without officers to lead the company. On account of this a committee was appointed by the Ass to look into the matter and report their findings. Without further notice the members of the company were ordered to report for duty in the old company in which they had been before the new company was formed, the new company having been disbanded and all privileges of a separate company having been taken from them without their knowledge. They asked that the Gen Ass take the matter up and allow them the right of a separate military company with the power to elect new officers; dated at Stratford, Conn, Jan 5, 1778.
